

Platinum Homes Home Features

Quality Construction

Platinum modular homes are built in factories with state-of-the-art technology. This ensures precision in every element that goes into each of our homes. The controlled, factory environment means that building materials are never exposed to the elements during construction, like those of site-built houses. Even the amenities -- from brand-name bathroom fixtures and appliances to carpet -- are inspected to ensure they live up to our strict quality standards.

At Platinum Homes, our quality standards meet or exceed those required by local building codes. In fact, we are so committed to quality; a third party agent inspects all of our homes before they can receive the Platinum stamp of approval. When you purchase a Platinum home, you're receiving a home of exceptional quality.

Partners in Quality

Platinum modular homes are finished with name-brand products that you've come to trust. These include: GE® appliances, Glidden® paint, and wear-dated Shaw Carpet protected by DuPont®. Efficient Interterm® heating and cooling equipment controls the temperature in our homes. And every Platinum home is built with the best lumber.
